Narrative is the gold standard of online literary magazines. —ESQUIRE

However you like your literature, Narrative has you covered. —PBS

Narrative is one of the most exciting and innovative literary magazines I have seen in the past decade. I look forward to reading it for a very long time. —JOYCE CAROL OATES

You are doing a splendid job for the short story, and writers like myself are very much aware of that. —WILLIAM TREVOR

Narrative’s been a remarkable showcase for the form and for young writers as well as classic living writers. The editors have made a special place for the talents they nurture, the ones that will be the literature we will have in years to come. —TOBIAS WOLFF

Shortly after “Nemecia” came out, the story was chosen to be in the Best American and I received an award from the Rona Jaffe Foundation, and it was this momentum, I think, that led to my book eventually being taken by Norton. I blame all this on Narrative. I think all this momentum can be credited to Narrative’s sterling reputation and incredible, incredible reach. —KIRSTIN VALDEZ QUADE

It’s remarkable that you can write a story in Iowa, and it can be published by a magazine in San Francisco and then read on the other side of the earth in Kashmir and Tehran. I think that the power of story and the way it can transcend many of the borders that we construct around our place in the world is something that is unusual, and Narrative’s reputation and its innovative approach to publishing allows that kind of transcendence. —ANTHONY MARRA

The fundamental fact of what we read and what we write has remained absolutely unchanged. It’s just narratives. It’s stories. That is really all that matters. —SUSAN ORLEAN

Narrative is a writer’s dream come true. —T. CORAGHESSAN BOYLE

Narrative publishes some of the best fiction out there. —HEIDI PITLOR, BEST AMERICAN SHORT STORIES SERIES EDITOR
Cofounder and Editor of Narrative CAROL EDGARIAN is the author of the New York Times–bestselling novel Three Stages of Amazement (Scribner) and the international bestseller Rise the Euphrates (Random House), which was hailed by the Washington Post as “a book whose generosity of spirit, intelligence, humanity, and finally ambition are what literature ought to be and rarely is today: daring, heartbreaking, and affirmative, giving order and sense to our random lives.” Edgarian’s fiction and nonfiction have been widely translated and anthologized. She coedited, with Tom Jenks, The Writer’s Life: Intimate Thoughts on Work, Love, Inspiration, and Fame from the Diaries of the World’s Great Writers (Vintage Books). Her articles, essays, and interviews have appeared in many locations, including the Wall Street Journal, NPR, Vogue, W, and Travel & Leisure. She is a sought-after speaker on such topics as “Digital Publishing” and “Why Stories Matter.”

Cofounder and Editor TOM JENKS is a former fiction editor of Esquire, literary editor of Gentlemen’s Quarterly, advisory editor at The Paris Review, and senior editor at Scribner, where he edited to great acclaim Hemingway’s posthumously published novel The Garden of Eden. Jenks has edited and published many of today’s leading authors, and with Raymond Carver he edited American Short Story Masterpieces, an anthology widely used in college and university classes. Jenks’s stories, articles, essays, reviews, and interviews have appeared in Esquire, Harper’s, Vanity Fair, Ploughshares, Story, the Los Angeles Times, Condé Nast Traveler, Manhattan, Inc., Missouri Review, Columbia, Reasons to Believe, The Encyclopedia of Literary Biography, and elsewhere. He has given classes at the Iowa Writers’ Workshop, the Creative Writing Programs at the University of California (Irvine and Davis), Washington University in St. Louis, the Squaw Valley and Bennington summer writing workshops, and privately throughout the United States.

Creative Director JOHN MILLER has worked in print media for more than twenty-five years as an art director and editor at numerous publications, including Vanity Fair, HarperCollins, and Esquire. He has consulted on redesigns of TV Guide, The New Yorker, Newsday, the Miami Herald, the Los Angeles Times, and the San Francisco Chronicle, and has helped develop websites for Bank of America, Intel, MSNBC, and many others. Miller has also developed and packaged more than fifty books, including Legends (with Anjelica Huston), Muhammad Ali: Ringside (with James Earl Jones), and San Francisco Stories.

Poetry Editor MICHAEL WIEGERS is the executive editor of Copper Canyon Press, a publishing house dedicated exclusively to poetry. Among the collections he has edited are award-winning books by poets C. D. Wright, W. S. Merwin, Ruth Stone, Ted Kooser, Taha Muhammad Ali, and Arthur Sze, as well as major works in translation and books by emerging authors. He is the coeditor of Reversible Monuments: Contemporary Mexican Poetry and the editor of the anthologies This Art and The Poet’s Child.

Managing Editor MIMI KUSCH has more than twenty-five years of publishing experience. Before starting at Narrative in 2003, she worked in-house at HarperCollins as assistant managing editor and at the University of California Press as a project editor. Additionally, for many years she has done freelance developmental editing and copyediting for both trade and academic presses.
